The City Of McDonough, GA

McDonough, the county seat of Henry County, is experiencing significant growth. As of 2024, the city's population is estimated at approximately 32,800, reflecting roughly a 13.3% increase since 2020. Projections estimate the population will surpass 34,500 by 2026 as residential development and in-migration continue throughout south Atlanta. The average household income exceeds $116,000, indicating strong consumer purchasing power and supporting continued retail expansion in the area.

The area's infrastructure is undergoing substantial enhancements to support this growth. Notably, the $54 million Western Parallel Connector, a four-lane roadway linking Hudson Bridge, Jodeco, and Jonesboro Roads, is currently under construction, with completion expected by late 2026. Additionally, the McDonough Parkway Extension is set to improve connectivity between Highways 42 and 155, further facilitating traffic flow and access to commercial hubs.

Retail development in McDonough is robust, and the subject property is strategically positioned within the expansive 158-acre Bridges at Jodeco development. This mixed-use project, anchored by Costco and Sprouts Farmers Market, features a strong lineup of national retailers and dining establishments, including Chick-fil-A, Starbucks, Chipotle, Whataburger, and First Watch. The development is supported by a growing residential base, including Argento Apartments (306 units) and Tessa Jodeco Townhomes (140 units), with The Levi Apartments (212 units) currently under development and additional residential phases planned, further strengthening long-term demand for the surrounding retail corridor.

Henry County's economic development is equally noteworthy. Since 2019, the county has secured more than $2 billion in investments and over 8,000 new jobs, transitioning from a distribution hub to a center for manufacturing and innovation. The presence of companies like Nexus Circular, which announced 194 new jobs in McDonough in 2024, underscores the area's continued economic momentum and diversification.
